ARCHITECT SELECTION PROCESS

Guidelines for selection:

- All firms for consideration should have current portfolios on file at The Office of Physical Resources and Planning.

- Firms under consideration for a particular project are internally selected based on an excellent body of work (on demonstrated ability and level of excellence).

- Long and/or short listed firms are to include different approaches to design – contra distinction being essential for defining aesthetic preferences and vision.

- Interviews are limited to the short list of qualified firms established by OPR&P internal processes.

- Interviews are presentations, conversations and discussions.

- Selection decisions made by the client/user team will be guided by both quantitative and qualitative criteria.

- We do not meet with firms except during a selection process.
